Gaston Naessens Somatoscope. A revolutionary video showing the incredible microscope of Gaston Naessens, called the 'somatoscope' which breaks the laws of physics to show you living organisms at 30,000X magnification and 150 Angstrom resolution..... showing living organisms without any type of slide preparation or staining. You will see the Somatid which lives in all living organisms (including humans), which is a shape changing (pleomorphic) organism responsible for cancer and many other degenerative diseases. Naessens invented his incredible microscope over 40 years ago and has invented a substance called 714X which has successfully treated cancer and other degenerative diseases in many people.
